Big Sky Brewing, The Trail 103.3, Montana Headwall Magazine, The Missoula Independent, and The West Central Montana Avalanche Foundation Present the Second Annual Burning Dog Pray for Snow Party and Fund-raiser

An evening of fun and entertainment to celebrate the impending winter (and to raise money for avalanche education and forecasting in West Central Montana) begins at 6 p.m. on Friday, October 16 at The Big Sky Brewery Amphitheater.

The party will feature the Montana premiere of Powder Whores' new ski film, Flakes, and music from Places and headliner Gift of Gab. The night will end with the annual burning of the 40'-tall Powder Hound Dog.

Vendors from the Missoula area will be offering food, discounted lift tickets, a sneak peek at this year's hottest backcountry gear and Big Sky Brewing's famous locally brewed beers.

Door prizes and raffle giveaways will include $2,000-worth of Cloudveil clothing, an avalanche transceiver and tons of other great backcountry gear.

All event proceeds will benefit The West Central Montana Avalanche Foundation, a 501c3 non profit dedicated to avalanche education and forecasting. Visit them online at www.missoulaavalanche.org.

This event has been made possible by generous support from Cloudveil, First Interstate Bank, Missoula Nissan Hyundai, Zip Beverage, Bob Ward's, Pipestone, Lost Trail Powder Mountain, The Trail Head and a host of local individuals and businesses.
