2013 Editors’ Choice Awards

Backcountry Magazine is ecstatic to announce the 2013 Editors' Choice Awards. These are next year's best backcountry skis, boots and bindings and we, the editors at Backcountry Magazine should know. Last spring, our team of 50 testers evaluated some 500 products at Powder Mountain, Ut. over more than 1,800 runs. We've boiled the beta for the last four months and narrowed the field—the top 70 skis, 40 boots, and 18 bindings are featured in the 2013 Gear Guide and among them are the Editors' Choice standouts. Highlighted here are the best of the best, but for more skis, boots, and bindings (and more about these products), pick up the 2013 Gear Guide, on newsstands August 28.

Tweet

Backcountry Magazine is ecstatic to announce the 2013 Editors' Choice Awards. These are next year's best backcountry skis, boots and bindings and we, the editors at Backcountry Magazine should know. Last spring, our team of 50 testers evaluated some 500 products at Powder Mountain, Ut. over more than 1,800 runs. We've boiled the beta for the last four months and narrowed the field—the top 70 skis, 40 boots, and 18 bindings are featured in the 2013 Gear Guide and among them are the Editors' Choice standouts. Highlighted here are the best of the best, but for more skis, boots, and bindings (and more about these products), pick up the 2013 Gear Guide, on newsstands August 28.

Tweet