

Friends of CAIC announces 2nd Annual CAIC Benefit Bash

Breckenridge, CO. October 22, 2009 - The Friends of the CAIC is proud to host the Second Annual CAIC Benefit Bash, a benefit for the Colorado Avalanche Information Center (CAIC), on November 14th, 2009 at the Breckenridge Riverwalk Center. We invite you to help support the CAIC in their efforts. The evening will be filled with live music, tasty food, incredible beer, and great people. We will be hosting a silent auction, while throwing door prizes to the crowd.

Colorado has one of the most dangerous snowpacks in North America and typically accounts for one third of all avalanche fatalities in the United States. The purpose of the CAIC is to minimize the economic and human impact of snow avalanches on the recreation, tourism, and commerce industries. They succeed in achieving their purpose through a dual mission of forecasting and public education. As more and more people venture into the backcountry, it is imperative that we continue to have this resource available. The CAIC provides valuable information for both recreational users and professionals venturing into the backcountry. The center operates on a limited budget and needs your support in order to continue this important work.

The Friends of the Colorado Avalanche Information Center (CAIC) is a non profit 501(c)3 organization created to support the CAIC, while contributing to avalanche awareness and education throughout the State of Colorado. They achieve this mission through donations, grants, and fundraising events.

If you think avalanche forecasting, education, and awareness is important in Colorado, then this party is for you. A $20 donation at the door includes one door prize ticket, three beer tickets, dinner and entertainment from Rooster Rocket.
